2007/2008

Chris McArthur
MEMO Fall Conference
October 4-6, 2007

I usually miss the MEMO Fall Conference because it is held downstate. Holding the conference at Cragun's provided me with an excellent reason to attend.

It was pleasant to see friends I hadn't seen in years, to visit with vendors and hear about the new trends in media education. I especially enjoyed working with Joan Larson and Donna Winder in the MEMO Store. My roomie, Laura Martin, and I talked for quite awhile about Jamie McKenzie's "thought" provoking lecture on "Thinking."

Peggy Sharp is an exciting speaker. Listening to her speak about books is invigorating. I'll admit I'm a little "teched-out," so books, books, books, was a shot in the arm.

My thanks to NLLN for the scholarship which made this conference a reality for me.
